Fire Instructor III Course

A Fire Instructor III is a fire service instructor who, in addition to meeting Instructor II qualifications has demonstrated the knowledge and ability to:

- Develop comprehensive training curriculums and programs for use by single or multiple organizations
- Conduct organization needs analysis
- Develop training goals and implementation strategies

This is a 64-hour course that will provide you with the advanced knowledge and all responsibilities of being a Fire Service instructor. Your foundation was established in Fire Instructor I, your structure was put together in Fire Instructor II, and now it is time to put together the finished product. As a Fire Instructor III you will learn the complete process of developing your own training programs and curriculums. This course will teach you to not just look at training from a teaching perspective but from a course development aspect as well (developing the right course for your target audience, getting budget approval, putting the course together while remaining inside of your budget, and of course the delivery of the course). This course follows NFPA 1041 and also covers many other NFPA Standards as well.
